50th Anniversary

MARY LOU JONES

Our "HEART OF GOLD" has served as Executive Director of South Shore Child Guidance since 1999. Prior to this, Dr. Jones had been the Director of Treatment Services and the founder and Director of the Children's Addiction Resource & Education Center.

Dr. Jones received her doctorate from Hunter College in Social Welfare and her M.S.W. from Adelphi University.

In addition to running an agency consisting of five demanding programs, Dr. Jones is committed to advocating at all levels for the children and families of not just Nassau County but all of New York State. She has devoted herself to assuring the present and future availability of mental health and chemical dependency services to all children and families in this county and state. In her lifelong pursuit of this goal, she has served as past president of the Agency Executive Council Board of United Way of Long Island serves on the Board of the Health & Welfare Council, is currently the co-chair of the Coalition of Long Island Behavioral Health Care Providers, has written numerous articles in papers such as the Mental Health News and serves on numerous countywide committees. Dr. Jones always finds the time to attend any meeting, committee, conference, hearing, etc. if it means the opportunity to "fight" for the children. When it comes to this cause, "giving up" is not in her vocabulary. Dr. Jones resides in Massapequa with her husband Patrick. She has two daughters and seven grandchildren.

The Coalition on Child Abuse and Neglect best summarized Dr. Jones when they honored her with their prestigious "VOICE FOR ALL CHILDREN" award.

Thank you Mary Lou for allowing us to honor you, our "HEART OF GOLD" and all that you do for the children and families of South Shore Child Guidance and all that you do for the future of Mental Health and Chemical Dependency Services.
